FARMER RIGHTS ARE RECOGNIZED

Platform Makers Face to Face
With Clear-cut, Business-like Demands

CHICAGO, June 9.—For the first time in the history of national political parties, a platform was prepared before the builders of the platform with a definite program and a demand that recognition be given to the farmer.

It was a sane, clear-cut, business-like statement that the farmers presented to the committee on resolutions and it was very apparent that the majority were impressed.

John A. McSparran of Lancaster, Pa., headed the committee representing thirty-seven national organizations of farmers. The resolutions were drafted at a conference held in Chicago Monday, and may be taken,

More important to City
The important thing to remember is that the city has the problem of a greater importance and more vital importance to the city than it is to the farmer. The farmer can always go to the city and get his family, but the city man is absolutely dependent upon the farmer. If the farmers quit the urban population faces a famine.

Mr. McSpadden cannot and will not continue to feed the rest of us unless he is given immediate relief.

Mr. McSpadden made a broad den-made against the farmer by the metropolitan press. Had the farmers been given a free market such as other lines of business had, the wool grower would have received 35 cents a bushel, instead of 32. The wool growers received 55 cents for their wool, but the cotton manufacturer received $3.50 a pound for his cotton. The wool grower received 35 cents for his cotton but that was only 40 cents out of the 75 cents which the manufacturer of gingham received for his cotton. A portion of the difference between the price the consumer's dollar reached, the farmer received and the price the manufacturer's dollar could not be laid at the farmer's door.

Only a Square Deal

The farmers are not asking any special privileges. They are only seeking a square deal in order that they may solve the problem of affording their children a better future.

The farmer is thoroughly tired of glittering generalities and vague promises, and I believe the part of the program presented today is definite and moderate and ought to find ready acceptance. It calls for recognition of agriculture as the fundamental industry of the nation, for the government to take the lead in the development of the farm, and for the farmer to be recognized as the backbone of the nation.

What Program Calls For

It is for credit and unquestioned rights of cooperative marketing of products and purchase of supplies for effective national control over the packers and all other interstate commerce. It is for a program of national manufacturing and transportation of food. It demands legislation that will check the growth of farm tenantry and perpetuate and strengthen the family farm. It demands the inauguration of a system of cooperative personal credit that will enable farmers to secure short credit on more favorable terms. It asks for consideration in tariff legislation that is accorded to other interests and for the conservation of all national resources. It opposes compulsory military training.

demands the repeal of laws restricting the right of free speech, free press and peaceable assemblage.

It opposes unrestricted immigration and asks for a general revision of the present system of taxation.

It is a big, constructive program and whatever the Chicago convention may think about it, the treatment it receives at the hands of the representatives of the Republican party here assembled will have a telling effect upon the result in November.

'MOVIE' MEN FIGHTING PRODUCER EXHIBITOR

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The fight against the producer-exhibitor was carried on today at the convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners

After admitting Marcus Loew of New York, with full voting powers, the delegates reconsidered their action and tabled the resolution. However, Mr. Loew gained the floor to address the convention. He denied any intention of forcing his views on the drivers and out of business and declared not even Wall street can control the industry.

Resolutions condemning state control of the industry and favoring the support of the organization to the government in its Americanization plans were adopted following addresses by Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, director of New York, and former Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane. Mr. Lane is prominently mentioned for president of the organization.
